Introduction to Mathematical Philosophy Bertrand Russell, 1920

The Cinema of Mike Leigh Garry Watson, 2004 A keen observer of British manners and mores Mike Leigh has been hailed as a celebrator of ordinary people Comparing and contrasting all his films from Bleak Moments and High Hopes through Naked the Oscar nominated Secrets and Lies and Topsy Turvy to All or Nothing Garry Watson considers this claim examining both their influence and their effect Through careful textual detail and wider social and literary comparison with the works of Charles Dickens and T S Eliot he argues ultimately for the artistic and cultural significance of Leigh s work as one of Britain s most respected film makers

Romanian Cinema Doru Pop, 2021-11-04 This volume explores the philosophical and metaphysical manifestations of contemporary cinema Starting with the hypothesis that movies provide an experience that is both a pathway into the thinking mechanisms of modern humans and into our collective psyche this study focuses on the elements that form the Romanian cinematic mind as part of the European cinema thinking While this book is based on specific case studies provided by recent productions in Romanian filmmaking such as Proroca 2017 and Touch me Not 2018 it also contextualises the national cinema within the larger European art of making movies Offering close interpretations of the works of world renowned directors like Cristi Puiu Cristian Mungiu Corneliu Porumboiu or more recently Adina Pintilie and Constantin Popescu this book questions the Romanianess of their cinematic techniques and places their philosophical roots both in a particular mode of thinking and within continental philosophy aims to enhance our appreciation of the modernity of the classical cultures and conversely of cinema's debt to ancient Greece and Rome. It explores filmic perspectives on the ancient verbal and visual arts and applies what is often referred to as pre-cinema and what Sergei Eisenstein called cinematism that paintings, statues, and literature anticipate modern visual technologies. The motion of bodies depicted in static arts and the vividness of epic ecphrases point to modern features of storytelling while Plato's Cave Allegory and Zeno's Arrow Paradox have been related to film exhibition and projection since the early days of cinema. The book additionally demonstrates the extensive influence of antiquity on an age dominated by moving image media as with stagings of Odysseus' arrow shot through twelve axes or depictions of the Golden Fleece. Chapters interpret numerous European and American silent and sound films and some television productions and digital videos.

Introduction to Mathematical Philosophy Bertrand Russell, 1967      Shadow Philosophy: Plato's Cave and Cinema Nathan Andersen, 2014-04-16

Shadow Philosophy: Plato's Cave and Cinema is an accessible and exciting new contribution to film philosophy which shows that to take film seriously is also to engage with the fundamental questions of philosophy. Nathan Andersen brings Stanley Kubrick's film A Clockwork Orange into philosophical conversation with Plato's Republic, comparing their contributions to themes such as the nature of experience and meaning, the character of justice, the contrast between appearance and reality, the importance of art, and the impact of images. At the heart of the book is a novel account of the analogy between Plato's allegory of the cave and cinema developed in conjunction with a provocative interpretation of the most powerful image from A Clockwork Orange in which the lead character is strapped to a chair and forced to watch violent films. Key features of the book include a comprehensive bibliography of suggested readings on Plato, on film, on philosophy, and on the philosophy of film; a list of suggested films that can be explored following the approach in this book, including brief descriptions of each film and suggestions regarding its philosophical implications; a summary of Plato's Republic book by book, highlighting both dramatic context and subject matter; offering a close reading of the controversial classic film A Clockwork Orange and an introductory account of the central themes of the philosophical classic The Republic; this book will be of interest to both scholars and students of philosophy and film as well as to readers of Plato and fans of Stanley Kubrick.
