Adaptation in the Age of Media Convergence Johannes Fehrle, Werner Schäfke-Zell, 2025-10-01 This collection considers new phenomena emerging in a convergence environment from the perspective of adaptation studies The contributions take the most prominent methods within the field to offer reconsiderations of theoretical concepts and practices in participatory culture transmedia franchises and new media adaptations The authors discuss phenomena ranging from mash ups of novels and YouTube cover songs to negotiations of authorial control and interpretative authority between media producers and fan communities to perspectives on the fictional and legal framework of brands and franchises In this fashion the collection expands the horizons of both adaptation and transmedia studies and provides reassessments of frequently discussed BBC's Sherlock or the LEGO franchise and previously largely ignored phenomena self censorship in transnational franchises mash up novels or YouTube cover videos

The Case for Fanfiction Ashley J. Barner, 2017-08-07 Challenging readers to rethink what they read and why the author questions the aesthetic assumptions that have led to the devaluing of fanfiction a genre criticized as both tasteless and derivative and other guilty pleasure reading and writing including romance and fantasy The complicated relationship between fanfic and intellectual property rights is discussed in light of the millennia old tradition of derivative literature before modern copyright law established originality as the hallmark of great fiction Absorbed reading the practice of immersing oneself in the narrative versus critically reading from a distance is a strong motive for the appropriation by fanfiction of canon characters and worlds
