Fighting Fake News in the EFL-classroom through "The Bad News Game". Potential and Challenges, 2023-11-17 Lesson Plan from the year 2022 in the subject Didactics for the subject English Miscellaneous grade 11 Justus Liebig University Giessen Anglistik course Fake News Disinformation and Critical Discourse Competence in the EFLC language English abstract This term paper seeks to investigate to what extent The Bad News Game is suitable to sensitize students to fake news and disinformation on the Internet through the presentation of a teaching unit consisting of one double lesson The first part of the term paper addresses three empirical studies with a respective distance of one year which deal with the game and its effect on the players Afterwards the theoretical second part will focus on the potentials and challenges in the EFL classroom which serves as a transition to the teaching unit The teaching unit will present a possible lesson design for English classes developed with the core curriculum for the upper secondary school English lessons of the Hessian Ministry of Education in mind Finally the conclusion summarizes the results of the chapters The Bad News Game is an excellent choice for the classroom as it addresses crucial manipulation techniques and is well suited as a discussion starter to strengthen students media literacy Besides it improves resistance to disinformation making it a good introduction to the complex topic The students awareness for fake news and disinformation on the Internet can be raised with the help of interactive and narrative elements that occur in the game and encourage constructive discussion The teaching unit which comprises a total of 1 double lesson serves to introduce the topic of fake news and disinformation and to get to know the prevailing problem as well as the linguistic characteristics In addition it is interesting to find out how students define fake news and whether they have encountered them before

Humanities Index, 2002 Peace Research Reviews, 1967 The Oxford Handbook of Film and Media Studies Robert Kolker, 2008-09-11 This handbook examines film and new media in the light of their convergence It draws on leading scholars in the field to discuss traditional areas of history and theory of film and digital media Its focus however is on the cycle of technologically driven arts Film was born of a number of experiments in reproducing motion all of which culminated in the nineteenth century projection of short films The creation of digital media resulted from experiments in alternative forms of representation in the early 1960s John Whitney

began creating avant garde films from digital graphics around 1960 and some of his ideas and methods were incorporated by Stanley Kubrick in 2001 A Space Odyssey By the early 1990s commercial filmmakers began to employ digital effects in their work By the late nineties digital arts had come fully into their own both in the form of stand alone or interactive artworks and films created with and for the computer At the same time digital effects had completely overtaken optical printing and matte painting in film From special effects to creating realistic backgrounds and crowds the digital is infiltrating all aspects of filmmaking The infiltration is about to become a takeover as celluloid is replaced by high definition digital recording and projection processes Many aspects of film will change as this latest convergence takes place Already cultural response to film has changed as viewers begin to teach themselves about film through supplementary material on DVDs and to make their own films on home computers But this handbook is not a technical history or manual Quite the contrary it is a scholarly work discussing the aesthetics economics and cultural results of these changes and convergences The book balances traditional scholarship and analysis with essays addressing technological change and the concurrent changes in cultural responses to these changes responses already acknowledged by the profession     Social Decision Making/social Problem Solving for Middle School Students Maurice J. Elias,Linda Bruene Butler,2005 School counseling staff as well as teachers and others running advisory or related groups will find this manual to be useful for helping students succeed in middle school At this critical point in their lives young adolescents can move in a positive and hopeful direction or they can enter into a negative downward spiral SDM SPS provides students with basic school survival skills and research based strategies for responsible decision making and problem solving SDM SPS uses a positive project oriented approach to help reduce school violence foster social and emotional intelligence improve academic effort and attention develop multicultural perspectives and prevent at risk students from giving up on school The authors present a thoroughly tested and effective approach for working with a broad spectrum of learners including those with emotional and behavioral disorders The manual includes numerous reproducible worksheets and assessment tools for tracking progress It provides strategies for supporting academic achievement improving media literacy skills encouraging parent involvement and implementing a school community service project BOOK JACKET     "BMS Year in Review" Elizabeth Jean Moss,2006

Enjoying the Track of Expression: An Mental Symphony within Social Media Literacy Review

In a global taken by screens and the ceaseless chatter of instant transmission, the melodic elegance and mental symphony produced by the prepared term usually disappear into the back ground, eclipsed by the constant noise and distractions that permeate our lives. Nevertheless, set within the pages of Social Media Literacy Review a wonderful literary value filled with organic thoughts, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by an elegant musician of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts readers on a mental journey, well unraveling the concealed tunes and profound impact resonating within each carefully crafted phrase.
