International Handbook of Interpretation in Educational Research Paul Smeyers, David Bridges, Nicholas C. Burbules, Morwenna Griffiths, 2015-01-06 This handbook focuses on the often neglected dimension of interpretation in educational research It argues that all educational research is in some sense interpretive and that understanding this issue belies some usual dualisms of thought and practice such as the sharp dichotomy between qualitative and quantitative research Interpretation extends from the very framing of the research task through the sources which constitute the data the process of their recording representation and analysis to the way in which the research is finally or provisionally presented The thesis of the handbook is that interpretation cuts across the fields both philosophically organizationally and methodologically By covering a comprehensive range of research approaches and methodologies the handbook gives early career researchers what they need to know in order to decide what particular methods can offer for various educational research contexts fields An extensive overview includes concrete examples of different kinds of research not limited for example to teaching and learning examples as present in the Anglo Saxon tradition but including as well what in the German Continental tradition is labelled pädagogisch examples from child rearing and other contexts of non formal education with full description and explanation of why these were chosen in particular circumstances and reflection on the wisdom or otherwise of the choice combined in each case with consideration of the role of interpretation in the process The handbook includes examples of a large number of methods traditionally classified as qualitative interpretive and quantitative used across the area of the study of education Examples are drawn from across the globe thus exemplifying the different opportunities and constraints that educational research has to confront in different societies

The Space of the World Nick Couldry, 2024-09-17 Over the past thirty years humanity has made a huge mistake We handed over to big tech decisions that have allowed them to build what has become our space of the world the highly artificial space of social media platforms where much of our social life now unfolds This has proved reckless and has huge social consequences The toxic effects on social life young people's mental health and political solidarity are well known but the key factor underlying all this has been missed the fact that humanity allowed business to construct our space of the world at all and then exploit it for profit In the process we ignored two millennia of political thought about the conditions under which a healthy or even a non violent politics is possible We endangered the one resource that is in desperately short supply in the face of catastrophic climate change solidarity Is human solidarity possible in a world of continuous digital connection and commercially managed platforms and what if it isn't In the first book of his trilogy Humanising the Future Nick Couldry offers a radical new vision of how to design our digital spaces so that they build rather than erode both solidarity and community This trenchant and vividly written book stresses that we cannot afford not to care for our space of the world We need to rebuild it together TASKs for Democracy Josef Huber (Educator), Pascale Mompoin-Gaillard, Ildikó Lázár, 2015 This publication contains a rationale for the necessity to focus on competences for democracy in all areas of education an explanation of what transversal attitudes skills and knowledge mean and why they are important for and should be taken on board by all education professionals A list of components forms the heart of the publication describing the core attitudes skills and knowledge which need to be developed by every individual in order to be able to live in and to contribute to the development and maintenance of democratic societies in their full diversity The collection of learning and re learning activities will help practitioners to promote the development of these components in their day to day educational practice Library Media Connection ,2003 Informal Learning and Digital Media Kirsten Drotner, Hans Siggaard Jensen, Kim Schrøder, 2008 The book provides an engaging overview of the ways in which digital media impact on current understandings of informal learning and it offers a range of grounded studies of the changing relations between digital media and informal learning processes with a particular focus on young people A variety of international scholars examine these processes across a number of sites and settings from Japan to Finland and the USA and they discuss their implications for education ICT and media The volume is an ideal resource for graduate students as well as for practitioners and policy makers The Education Index ,1976 Kick the TV Habit!
