Disenfranchised Grief Kenneth J. Doka, 1989-08-15 A comprehensive exploration of grief by leading researchers and mental health care professionals grief as an entirely natural response to loss and the consequences when the grief or loss is not openly acknowledged socially sanctioned or publicly shared Disenfranchised Grief Kenneth J. Doka, 1999-11

Disenfranchised Grief Kenneth J. Doka, 2002 This book focuses on the kind of grief that is not openly acknowledged socially validated or publicly mourned It addresses the unique psychological biological and sociological issues involved in disenfranchised grief The contributing authors explore the concept of disenfranchised grief help define and explain this type of grief and offer clinical interventions to help griever express their hidden sorrow Living Through Loss Nancy R. Hooyman, Betty J. Kramer, 2006

Hooyman and Kramer's starting point is that loss comes in many forms and can include not only suffering the death of a person one loves but also giving birth to a child with disabilities living with chronic illness or being abused assaulted or otherwise traumatized They approach loss from the perspective of the resilience model which acknowledges the capacity of people to integrate loss into their lives and write sensitively about the role of age race culture sexual orientation gender and spirituality in a person's response to loss from publisher information The Unknown

Country: Death in Australia, Britain and the USA Kathy Charmaz, Glennys Howarth, Allan Kellehear, 2016-07-27 In a strategy deliberately counter to many earlier texts which focus on social aspects of death and dying this book will not examine death through the social prism of US or British culture alone Drawing only on material from a single society gives readers the misleading impression of a universal experience As a text in the sociology of death and dying this volume examines culture specific images and experiences of death in three major western societies Australia Britain and the USA

Grief Is a Journey Kenneth J. Doka, 2016-04-12 In this volume of rare sensitivity penetrating understanding and profound insights Rabbi Earl A. Grollman author of Living When a Loved One Has Died Dr Kenneth Doka explores a new compassionate way to grieve explaining that grief is not an illness to get over but an individual and ongoing journey There is no one size fits all way to cope with loss The vital bonds that we form with those we love in life continue long after death in very different ways Grief Is a Journey is the first book to overturn prevailing often judgmental ideas about grief and replace them with a hopeful inclusive personalized and research backed approach New science and studies behind Dr Doka's teaching upend the dominant but incorrect view that grief proceeds by stages Dr Doka helps us realize that our experiences following a death are far more individual and much less predictable than the conventional five stages model would have us believe Common patterns of experiencing and expressing grief still prevail yet many other life changes accompany a primary loss For example the deaths of parents even for adults modify family patterns change relationships and alter old family rituals Unique to this book Dr Doka also explains how to cope with disenfranchised grief the types of loss that are not so readily recognized or supported by society These include the death of ex spouses as well as non fatal losses such as divorce the end of a friendship job loss or infertility In addition Dr Doka considers losses that might be stigmatized including death by suicide or from disease or self destructive behaviors such as smoking or alcoholism And finally Dr Doka reminds us that however painful grief provides opportunities for growth
