Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society María Amor Barros-del Río, 2024-07-19

Transcultural Insights into Contemporary Irish Literature and Society examines the transcultural patterns that have been enriching Irish literature since the twentieth century and engages with the ongoing dialogue between contemporary Irish literature and society. Driven by the growing interest in transcultural studies in the humanities, this volume provides an insightful analysis of how Irish literature handles the delicate balance between authenticity and folklore and uniformisation and diversity in an increasingly globalised world. Following a diachronic approach, the volume includes critical readings of canonical Irish literature as an uncharted exchange of intercultural dialogues. The text also explores the external and internal transcultural traits present in recent Irish literature and its engagement with social injustice and activism and discusses location and mobility as vehicles for cultural transfer and the advancement of the women's movement. A final section also includes an examination of literary expressions of hybridisation, diversity and assimilation to scrutinise negotiations of new transcultural identities. In the light of the compiled contributions, the volume ends with a revisitation of Irish studies in a world in which national identity has become increasingly problematic. This volume presents new insights into the fictional engagement of contemporary Irish literature with political, social and economic issues and its efforts to accommodate the local and the global, resulting in a reshaping of national collective imaginaries.

Galway Girl Ken Bruen, 2019-11-05 They don't come much tougher than Ken Bruen's Irish roughneck Jack Taylor and crime thrillers don't get any better than this. The New York Times Book Review: Jack Taylor has never quite been able to get his life together but now he has truly hit rock bottom. Still reeling from a violent family tragedy, Taylor is busy drowning his grief in Jameson and uppers as usual when a high profile officer in the local Garda is murdered. After another Guard is found dead and then another Taylor's old colleagues from the force implore him to take on the case. The plot is one big game and all of the pieces seem to be moving at the behest of one dangerously mysterious team: a trio of young killers with very different styles but who are united by their common desire to take down Jack Taylor. Their ring leader is Jericho, a psychotic girl from Galway who is grieving the loss of her lover and who will force Jack to confront some personal trauma from his past. As sharp and sardonic as it is starkly bleak and violent, Galway Girl shows master raconteur Ken Bruen at his best: lyrical, brutal and ceaselessly suspenseful.

The Emerald Lie Ken Bruen, 2016-09-06 An Irish crime novel featuring ex-cop Jack Taylor from an author among the most original and innovative noir voices of the last two decades. Los Angeles Review of Books: In The Emerald Lie, the latest terror to be visited upon the dark Galway streets arrives in a most unusual form: a Cambridge graduate who becomes murderous over split infinitives, dangling modifiers and any other sign of bad grammar. Meanwhile, Jack is approached by a grieving father with a pocketful of cash on offer if Jack will help exact revenge on those responsible for his daughter's brutal rape and murder. Though hesitant to get involved, Jack agrees to get a read on the likely perpetrators. But Jack is soon derailed by the
