Political Protest and Undocumented Immigrant Youth Stefanie Quakernack, 2018-06-12 What does it mean to be a young undocumented immigrant Current public debate on undocumented immigration provokes discussion worldwide and it is estimated that there are more than 11 1 million undocumented immigrants in the US yet what it really means to be an undocumented immigrant appears less explicitly delineated in the debate This interdisciplinary volume applies theories from Media Cultural and Literary Studies to investigate how undocumented immigrant youth in the United States have claimed a public voice by publishing their video narratives on YouTube Case studies show how political protest significantly shapes these videos as activists narrate and perform their dispossession redefining their understanding of the mechanisms of immigration in the Americas and of home belonging and identity The impact of the videos is explored as the activists connect them to Congressional bills and present their activities as a continuation of the legacy of the civil rights movements of the 1960s and 1970s This book will be of interest to a wide range of scholars and students involved in debates on migration communication new media culture protest movements and political lobbying

Subjectivity and the Political Gavin Rae, Emma Ingala, 2017-10-12 Despite or quite possibly because of the structuralist post structuralist and deconstructionist critiques of subjectivity master signifiers and political foundations contemporary philosophy has been marked by a resurgence in interest in questions of subjectivity and the political Guided by the contention that different conceptions of the political are at least implicitly committed to specific conceptions of subjectivity while different conceptions of subjectivity have different political implications this collection brings together an international selection of scholars to explore these notions and their connection Rather than privilege one approach or conception of the subjectivity political relationship this volume emphasizes the nature and status of the and in the subjectivity and the political schema By thinking from the place between subjectivity and the political it is able to explore this relationship from a multitude of perspectives directions and thinkers to show the heterogeneity openness and contested nature of it While the contributions deal with different themes or thinkers the themes thinkers are linked historically and or conceptually thereby providing coherence to the volume Thinkers addressed include Arendt Butler Levinas Agamben Derrida Kristeva Adorno Gramsci Mill Hegel and Heidegger while the subjectivity political relation is engaged with through the mediation of the law political ethics politics theological political inside outside subject person and individual institution relationships as well as through concepts such as genius happiness abjection and ugliness The original essays in this volume will be of interest to researchers in philosophy politics political theory critical theory cultural studies history of ideas psychology and sociology

Radical Philosophy, 2013

Agonistic Mourning Athena Athanasiou, 2017-06-02 Drawing on a range of philosophical anthropological and political theories Athena Athanasiou offers a new way of thinking about agonistic performativity with its critical connections to national and gender politics and alongside the political intricacies of affectivity courage and justice Through an ethnographic account of the urban feminist and antinationalist movement Women in Black of Belgrade during the Yugoslav wars she shows that we might understand their dissident politics of mourning as a means to refigure political life beyond sovereign accounts of subjectivity and agency

Recycling Class Manisha Anantharaman, 2024-01-02 An ethnographic and community engaged study of the class caste and gender politics of environmental mobilizations around Bengaluru India's discards In Recycling Class Manisha Anantharaman examines the ideas, flows and relationships around unmanaged discards in Bengaluru India itself a massive environmental problem of planetary proportions to help us understand what types of coalitions deliver social justice within sustainability initiatives Recycling Class links middle class sustainable consumption with the environmental labor of the working poor to offer a relational analysis of urban sustainability politics and practice Through ethnographic community based research Anantharaman shows how diverse social groups adopt, contest and modify neoliberal sustainability's emphasis on market based solutions, behavior change and the aesthetic conflation of clean with green Tracing garbage politics in Bengaluru for over a decade Anantharaman argues that middle class communal sustainability efforts create new avenues for waste picker organizations to make claims for infrastructural inclusion Coproduced DIY infrastructures serve as sites of citizenship and political negotiation challenging the technocratic and growth based logics of dominant sustainability policies Yet these configurations reproduce class, caste and gender based divisions of labor demonstrating that inclusion without social reform can reproduce unjust distributions of risk and responsibility Revealing the win-win fallacy of sustainability and foregrounding the agency of communities excluded from environmental policy Recycling Class will appeal to scholars and activists alike who want to create a future with more transformative sustainability

Palestinian Music and Song Moslih

Kanaan, Stig-Magnus Thorsén, Heather Bursheh, David A. McDonald, 2013-11-07 A monumental contribution to Palestinian studies an indispensable resource for those interested in Middle Eastern folklore, music history and politics Journal of Folklore Research Drawing from a long history of indigenous traditions and incorporating diverse influences of surrounding cultures music in Palestine and among the millions of Palestinians in diaspora offers a unique window on cultural and political events of the past century From the perspective of scholars, performers, composers and activists Palestinian Music and Song examines the many ways in which music has been a force of representation, nation building and social action From the turn of the twentieth century when Palestine became an exotic object of fascination for missionaries and scholars to twenty-first century transnational collaborations in hip hop and new media this volume traces the conflicting dynamics of history and tradition, innovation and change, power and resistance
