Diversity, Equity, and Inclusive Education: A Voice from the Margins C.P. Gause, 2011-07-23 The United States is more ideologically philosophically culturally linguistically racially and ethnically diverse than she has been in any given point in her history however many of her citizens are currently living in a state of fear What stands out the most is how we allow this fear to take over our lives in multiple ways We fear our neighbors therefore we do not engage them We fear young people and the way they look therefore we do not have conversations with them We fear the possibility of terrorists attacks therefore we utilize eavesdropping and surveillance devices on our citizens There are some of us who fear the lost of gun rights therefore we stockpile weapons We fear anything that is different from who we are and what we believe This nation has at many points within our history become more united because of our fear however as our borders physical and virtual become less protective and the opportunities to connect more via the digital world expand we must educate our citizenry to not live in fear but in hope To teach learn and lead democratically requires the individual to engage in problem posing and in critiquing taken for granted narratives of power and privilege Critical change occurs with significant self sacrifice potential alienation rejection and costly consequences Educators must do justice to the larger social public and institutional responsibility of our positions and we must exercise courage in creating opportunities for change Diversity Equity and Inclusive Education A Voice from the Margins provides the space and opportunity to move beyond a state of fear into a state of organic transformation a place where fear creates the energy to speak those things that are not as though they were

Tenure at a Crossroads, Again? G.L.A. Harris, Dwight Vick, 2023-06-21 Tenure at a Crossroads Again goes beyond the explication of tenure to explore the contemporary challenges facing academia at the K 12 and higher education levels This edited volume is unique in the sense that it grapples issues from multiple viewpoints that of the university college administrator and professor to the K 12 educator The book examines increased expectations and how existing policies have spilled over into institutions of higher learning once high school graduates enter this domain Students educational expectations resonate with college administrators and policy makers forcing institutions to adapt to these needs This moves professors to dumb down the curricula and teaching to avoid negative evaluations and protect themselves from unwarranted retaliation This confluence of factors reverberates throughout the educational system producing unintended effects that have collectively led to an alliance between the administration and students in higher education much like those experienced by our K 12 colleagues yet now questions the rationale for tenure to re examine dilemmas that have long dogged higher education The most recent solution the corporatization of institutions but to the detriment of a quality education Weofferpractical strategies to mitigate this unilateral approach while incorporating innovative mechanisms for the system s survival Inclusive Teaching in South Africa Tsediso Michael Makoelle, 2016-08-31 Inclusive education presupposes an all inclusive approach where all learners are taught in regular classrooms regardless of background disability or social context While there has been much debate indications are that inclusive education has been gaining momentum. The book is divided into six coherent sections that address the how of inclusive education both inside and outside of the classroom Education Is a Right, Right?, 2020-10-26 Overarching principles of human rights which shore up a nearly 30 year history of international efforts to develop educational systems that are responsive to the needs of all Arguably the most widely recognised international inclusive education policy the Salamanca Statement released in 1994 from the United Nations Education Science and Cultural Organisation UNESCO recognised that every child has a basic right to education In so doing however it drew a line around special needs as a particular emphasis in globalising efforts towards equal opportunity through decrees for first principles of universally attainable privileges Considered a watershed moment in global responses to educational exclusion the Salamanca Statement was core to increasing awareness among nations of the need for fostering more inclusive education policy and practice Nonetheless the liberal ideologies that frame human rights in inclusive education are seldom called into question despite perpetual marginalisation and disadvantage post Salamanca Inclusive Education Is a Right Right brings the many together to consider educational democracy at a moment in global history where the political order fractures populations and the displacement of socio economic participation is displayed in every news bulletin true fake or otherwise Under these conditions the significance of academic activism wherein diverse perspectives methodologies and theoretical approaches are put to work to increase equity in education has perhaps never been so stark Across the collection the combined chapters engage with researchers students education professionals and leaders advocacy organisations and people experiencing exclusion and consider human rights in relation to inclusive education Contributors are Kate Anderson Alison Baker Tim Corcoran Edwin Creely Jenny Duke Peng Sim Eng Leechin Heng Anna Kilderry Sarah
