Discriminating Risk Guy Stuart, 2018-07-05 The U S home mortgage industry first formalized risk criteria in the 1920s and 1930s to determine which applicants should receive funds Over the past eighty years these formulae have become more sophisticated Guy Stuart demonstrates that the very concepts on which lenders base their decisions reflect a set of social and political values about who deserves what Stuart examines the fine line between licit choice and illicit discrimination arguing that lenders while eradicating blatantly discriminatory practices have ignored the racial and economic class biases that remain encoded in their decision processes He explains why African Americans and Latinos continue to be at a disadvantage in gaining access to loans discrimination he finds results from the interaction between the way lenders make decisions and the way they shape the social structure of the mortgage and housing markets Mortgage lenders Stuart contends are embedded in and shape a social context that can best be understood in terms of rules networks and the production of space Stuart s history of lenders risk criteria reveals that they were synthesized from rules of thumb cultural norms and untested theories In addition his interviews with real estate and lending professionals in the Chicago housing market show us how the criteria are implemented today Drawing on census and Home Mortgage Disclosure Act data for quantitative support Stuart concludes with concrete policy proposals that take into account the social structure in which lenders make decisions

Equality and Discrimination Law in Australia: An Introduction Beth Gaze, Belinda Smith, 2016-12-13 Equality and Discrimination Law in Australia An Introduction explores four decades of anti discrimination laws in Australia Beth Gaze and Belinda Smith argue that effective laws protecting against and deterring discrimination are vital for a fair future and emphasise the theoretical and social contexts that underpin this area of the law The text is divided into three sections the first addresses the social and conceptual context history and framework of anti discrimination laws the second analyses the main elements of the law and the processes of enforcement and the third explores broader avenues for pursuing equality beyond simply prohibiting discrimination Written in a clear and concise style Equality and Discrimination Law in Australia An Introduction is a vital resource for students

Genetic Discrimination Gerard Quinn, Aisling de Paor, Peter Blanck, 2014-11-20 As genetic technologies advance genetic testing may well offer the prospect of detecting the onset of future disabilities Some research also forwards that certain behavioural profiles may have a strong genetic basis such as the

determination to succeed or the propensity for risk taking As this technology becomes more prevalent there is a danger that genetic information may be misused by third parties and that particular genetic profiles may be discriminated against by employers by providers of social goods and services such as insurance companies and even by educational facilities This book explores the different forms and potential uses of genetic testing Drawing together leading experts in disability law bioethics health law and a range of related fields it highlights the ethical and legal challenges arising as a result of emerging and rapidly advancing genetic science On examining transatlantic perspectives on the matter chapters in the book ask whether the US Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act GINA is proving to be an effective tool in addressing the issue of genetic discrimination and alleviating fears of discrimination The book also reviews what insights may be gained from GINA within employment and health insurance contexts and asks how the UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities CRPD may impact similar debates within the European Union The book focuses particularly on the legislative and policy framework in the European Union with an emphasis on the gaps in protection and the scope for specific legislative action in this area This book will be of great interest to scholars and students of discrimination law bioethics and disability law and will be of considerable use to legal practitioners medical practitioners and policy makers in this area

Lets delve into the realm of popular books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have enthralled audiences this year. Discriminating Risk Discriminating Risk : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This touching tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover masterfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This mesmerizing coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of captivating stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a exceptional and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
