Dismantling White Privilege Pedagogy Politics And Whiteness:

Dismantling White Privilege Nelson M. Rodriguez, Leila E. Villaverde, 2000 Dismantling White Privilege critically interrogates whiteness across contexts from the experiential level to the different ways in which whiteness is deployed in contemporary cultural politics. The editors and contributors contend that marking whiteness is an important step in dismantling white privilege within the context of concerns for equity and social justice. Significant to this anthology is linking analyses of whiteness to the discourse of critical pedagogy especially around constructing pedagogies of whiteness. Investigating whiteness in its many manifestations Dismantling White Privilege represents a necessary advance concerning the intersection among race culture and pedagogy. Page 4 of cover Anti-colonialism and Education George Jerry Sefa Dei, Arlo Kempf, 2006 There is a rich intellectual history to the development of anti colonial thought and practice. In discussing the politics of knowledge production this collection borrows from and builds upon this intellectual tradition to offer understandings of the macro political processes and structures of education delivery e.g. social organization of knowledge culture pedagogy and resistant politics. The contributors raise key issues regarding the contestation of knowledge as well as the role of cultural and social values in understanding the way power shapes everyday relations of politics and subjectivity. In reframing anti colonial thought and practice this book reclaims the power of critical oppositional discourse and theory for educational transformation. Anti Colonialism and Education The Politics of Resistance includes some of the most current theorizing around anti colonial practice written specifically for this collection. Each of the essays extends the terrain of the discussion of what constitutes anti colonialism. Among the many discursive highlights is the interrogation of the politics of embodied knowing the theoretical distinctions and connections between anti colonial thought and post colonial theory and the identification of the particular lessons of anti colonial theory for critical educational practice. Essays explore such key issues as the challenge of articulating anti colonial thought as an epistemology of the colonized anchored in the indigenous sense of collective and common colonial consciousness the conceptualization of power configurations embedded in ideas cultures and histories of marginalized communities the understanding of indigeneity as pedagogical practice and the pursuit of agency resistance and subjective politics through anti colonial learning. Visual Economies Of/in Motion C. Richard King, David J. Leonard, 2006 Sport films have been central to American cinema playing an increasingly important role in the communication of a commonsense understanding of race gender class history and social relations. Oddly scholars have neglected sport films and their significance. Offering a comparative theoretically grounded and interdisciplinary approach Visual Economies of in Motion marks a novel and important point of departure in sport studies and cultural studies. It brings together a dozen essays on feature films and documentaries to probe the articulation of ideologies and identities play and power and sporting worlds and social fields.  argues that race and racism continue to script the social fabric in Euro North America While dominant discourses claim that we have made significant progress away from racial bigotry there is no shortage of evidence that inequitable ideologies of race prevail Similarly mainstream cinematic productions have mass appeal yet tend to demonstrate and cement the racial ideologies that circulate in society As such they can be used either for the propagation of dominant ideologies or in the development of critical consciousness Crash Politics and Antiracism does the latter understanding the award winning film Crash as an especially interesting pedagogical site for while to many it offers a fresh analysis of race and racism the antiracist analyses in this book suggest that it recycles oppressive understandings of race The essays in this collection written from a variety of racial locations provide readings of Crash that seek to disrupt the movie's subtle messages and more importantly some of the intractable liberal notions of race that perpetuate racial inequity The considerations raised in this volume will enrich critical conversations about how race and racism work in contemporary Euro North American
