Divergent Visions, Contested Spaces Jeffrey Hotz, 2021-04-29 This multicultural project examines fictional and non fictional accounts of travel in the Early Republic and antebellum periods Connecting literary representations of geographic spaces within and outside of U S borders to evolving definitions of national American identity the book explores divergent visions of contested spaces Through an examination of depictions of the land and travel in fiction and non fiction the study uncovers the spatial and legal conceptions of national identity The study argues that imagined geographies in American literature dramatize a linguistic contest among dominant and marginal voices Blending interpretations of canonical authors such as James Fenimore Cooper Frederick Douglass Richard Henry Dana Jr and Herman Melville with readings of less well known writers like Gilbert Imlay Elizabeth House Trist Sauk Chief Black Hawk William Grimes and Moses Roper the book interprets diverse authors impressions of significant spaces migrations The movements and regions covered include the Anglo American migration to the Trans Appalachian Valley after the Revolutionary War the 1803 Louisiana Purchase and Anglo American travel west of the Mississippi the Underground Railroad as depicted in the fugitive slave narrative and novel and the extension of American interests in maritime endeavors off the California coast and in the South Pacific

The Spell Cast by Remains Patricia Ross, 2006-05-23 First published in 2006 Examining the constituting mechanism of the American wilderness myth in Modern American literature Patricia Ross probes the various purposes for which wilderness is constructed Considering the work of Hemingway Faulkner and Cather she states that the idea of wilderness is just that an idea and not a real entity or something that deserves to be wasted in the chasm of deconstruction Discovering how literature can help us to understand how we can exert causative control of the myths we create about ourselves this book is an important contribution to the field

Keeping up Her Geography Tanya Ann Kennedy, 2006-11-01 Recently literary critics and some historians have argued that to use the language of separate spheres is to mistake fiction for reality However the tendency in this criticism is to ignore the work of feminist political theorists who argue that a range of ideologies of the public and private consistently work to mask gender inequalities In Keeping Up Her Geography Tanya Ann Kenedy argues that these inequalities are shaped by multiple but interconnected spatial constructions of the public and private in US culture

Moreover the early twentieth century when key spatial concepts the nation the urban the regional and the domestic were being redefined is a pivotal era for understanding how the public private binary remains tenaciously central to the defining of gender Keeping Up Her Geography shows that this is the case in a range of literary and cultural contexts in feminist speeches at the World's Columbian Exposition in middle class women's urban reform texts in southern writer Ellen Glasgow's novels and in the autobiographical narratives of Zora Neale Hurston and Agnes Smedley

Visionary Dreariness Markus Poetzsch, 2013-09-13 Visionary Dreariness Readings in Romanticism's Quotidian Sublime undertakes a reconceptualization of the theoretical and experiential framework of the Romantic sublime by shifting the focus from Burke's and Kant's prescriptions of natural vastness and grandeur to the narrower but no less wondrous spaces objects and experiences of everyday life This shift is defined as a descent from mountaintops to an encounter in William Blake's terms with a World in a Grain of Sand The purpose of this book is to sift the literature of the Romantic everyday both prose and poetry canonical and noncanonical for such grains In order to define the inherently amorphous and subsumptive sphere called everyday life the author draws upon two main theoretical threads the first based on the phenomenological poetics of Gaston Bachelard serves to elucidate the depth and diversity of everyday household space the second comprising the work of Henri Lefebvre and Michel de Certeau defines the generative potential what de Certeau glosses as the everyday creativity of some of the most basic human activities such as walking reading and washing to name but a few The role of the everyday in Romantic literature has in recent years received greater scholarly attention particularly from critics dissatisfied with the perpetuation of what Karina Williamson characterizes as a debased Romanticism which rules there is a category of experience and expression which is poetic and all the rest is ordinary and inadmissible The present study serves to map the intersections of these categories of experience and expression the sublime and the quotidian and thereby to challenge our assumptions about the aesthetic value of the everyday not only in the Romantic period but also in our own

Idioms of Self Interest Jill Phillips Ingram, 2013-10-18 Idioms of Self Interest uncovers an emerging social integration of economic self interest in early modern England by examining literary representations of credit relationships in which individuals are both held to standards of communal trust and rewarded for risk taking enterprise Drawing on women's wills merchants' tracts property law mock testaments mercantilist pamphlets and theatrical account books and utilizing the latest work in economic theory and history the book examines the history of economic thought as the history of discourse In chapters that focus on The Merchant of Venice Eastward Ho and Whitney's Wyl and Testament it finds linguistic and generic stress placed on an ethics of credit that allows for self interest Authors also register this stress as the failure of economic systems that deny self interest as in the overwrought paternalistic systems depicted in Shakespeare's Timon of Athens and Francis Bacon's New Atlantis The book demonstrates that Renaissance interpretive formations concerning economic behaviour were more flexible and innovative than appears at first glance and it argues that the notion of self interest is a coherent locus of interpretation in the early

Faith, Philanthropy, and Southern Progress Thomas Charles Henthorn,2009      Knowledge & Power in the Global Economy David Gabbard,2008 The second edition of Knowledge and Power in the Global Economy examines how neoliberal and neoconservative policies are working in tandem to privatize and commercialize public schools It looks at how these policies and the agendas behind them have impacted the internal dynamics of school management teaching and learning as well as how they have transformed the external dynamics of education from a public good or service offered to serve public interests to a private enterprise primarily serving private interests In addition to information critique and analysis multiple perspectives are provided that readers can draw upon to formulate an alternative vision of education as a crucial element of social change along democratic and egalitarian lines The first edition of this volume provided a critical encyclopedic approach to the rhetoric of educational reform as it developed from the 1980s through the 1990s critiquing its vocabulary elaborating the multiplicity of ways that the logic of neoliberalism and the emerging patterns of high stakes testing and accountability were impacting the curriculum and introducing ideas associated with alternative and liberatory educational projects Since its publication in 2000 policy developments such as the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 in the U S and others in the U K and other parts of the world have nationalized and intensified these patterns deepening the logic and extent of neoliberalism s hold over educational reforms At the same time it is impossible to understand the current crises in education solely in terms of neoliberalism the impact of neoconservatism must also be considered Hence this second edition has a new subtitle The Effects of School Reform in a Neoliberal Neoconservative Age This edition is structured around five themes Political and Social Foundations Anti Educational Foundations The Set Up Anti Educational Foundations The Trap Classroom Consequences and Democracy s Path This volume will particularly interest scholars and professionals across the fields of educational foundations curriculum theory and educational policy and is well suited as a text for courses in these areas
