Siegel, 2020-10-08 In The God of San Francisco James J Siegel examines queer grief during the onset of the AIDS crisis through a lavender and leather pantheon St Christopher Allah and the God of San Francisco transubstantiate a sarcoma s cicatrix into sequins a viral dowry into a benevolent plume of dazzling feathers From Laramie Wyoming to Toledo Ohio Siegel performs a magisterial frilling of historical attention always emerging as an extraordinary conflagration A beautiful immolation At once an elegiac columbarium and search and rescue map for future bliss The God of San Francisco trills from the Castro Funeral Home to North Beach and back surmising death as something honeyed and lissome eulogies eulogized Desire masquerades as a raven gliding on the backdrop of midnight and Jesus in fishnets crossdressing his way through Nazareth and desire cedes each poem s boy spectral or otherwise a warm hand green grass the sun s rays on our skin Never Picked First For Playtime

Siegel, 2016-02-02 This collection seems to have been written with vapor the unseen made visible through James Siegel s intuitive eye The poems also form an elegy of place Ohio Personal phantoms populate this physical and metaphysical locus Haunted by history and its ruins the poet deciphers t hat fur covered folklore crawling out from under the skin Recasting stanzas into incantations Siegel conjures memories that brush the sides of your face rest in the tangles of your hair Finally ghosts become the Holy Ghost with a congregation of wings with the rattle of the rosary Angelic presences reify the ineffable And from that perspective the poet shows the reader how the vault of the stars unlocks Dean Kostos author of This Is Not a Skyscraper and Rivering How Ghosts Travel is James Siegel's beautifully atmospheric explication of his past which here is ever present His voice though casual and colloquial at times is always tuned to the lyrical as he resurrects his childhood and young adulthood in industrial and small town Ohio in poems scarred with heartbreak and loss But what is perhaps most impressive about this debut collection is the sheer number of poems that remain vibrantly in mind long after they're read among them Fishing Photo Circa 1984 Boy Scout Blue Massillon Flatlands The Road and Serpent Mound one of the most skillful love poems I've encountered This is a book well worth the price of admission Myrna Stone author of In The Present Tense Portraits of My Father and The Casanova Chronicles In How Ghosts Travel James J Siegel tells us you may leave behind your landscapes but not without warning we cannot expect the past to just stop talking This collection channels that past using crumbling maps a ouija board even the bones of an ancient civilization unearthed where a parking lot was supposed to be to revisit the charged particles of a childhood in suburban Ohio A tribute to the Midwest of his parents and grandparents Siegel observes Factories close families move gears sigh one last time But luckily there are the drive in theaters Lake Erie fishing trips County Fairs and Boy Scout badges to remember One would think this world has slipped away with the drugstore windows filled with dust but Siegel reminds us Nature knows what to do when it fills the empty spaces of the Ferris wheel with thick birch branches This book is a ride on that wheel granting a view of the whole town its industrial graveyards and abandoned homes made fertile again by their former lives and the poet who resurrects them Michael Montlack author of Cool Limbo NYQ Books Sappho Jane McIntosh Snyder, 1995 A biography of the female Greek poet The Poetical Works of John Gay John Gay, 1893 L.A.'s New Gay Men's Chorus: 100 Turn Out for First Rehearsal Pat Rocco (1934), 100 of the Most Influential Gay Entertainers, Volume II Jenettha Baines, 2014-03 The art of female impersonation is a phenomenon in the GLBTQI community Adorned with beautiful photos the legendary entertainers talk about a culture still fighting for equal rights They remind us when being gay was less appealing a time when it was illegal to be seen in drag when permits and licenses were required and as an act of discouragement the legal system played its part in allowing those in authority to use illegal tactics in their efforts to disband gay establishments by way of illegal arrests scare tactics gay bashing and other dehumanizing acts such as strip searches on the sidewalks outside of the gay clubs The entertainers give all of themselves as they tell their stories of accomplishments defeat love hate family turmoil long and loving relationships out of control lives maturity alcohol and drug use rape prostitution death of loved ones manslaughter life changing events alienation from parents and siblings fear and much more www.100mige.com
